ITINERARY

DAY 1

At 9:00 we will travel by Rurrenabaque truck to the town of Santa Rosa del Yacuma (Municipality that is 100 km distant from Rurrenabaque). During the trip you will see families of herons, sloths and enough flora and fauna in the humid Pampa of the Bolivian Amazon, we will have lunch in Santa Rosa, then we will sail in a motor boat by the Yacuma River (River that is 15 minutes away of the Population of Santa Rosa) for about three and a half hours. During the navigation of this river we will observe a large number of reptiles and amphibious animals such as turtles, alligators, toads and lizards. We will also see mammals such as the so-called monkeys of the night, whistlers, spider monkeys, capybaras. Some birds such as kingfishers, batos,alcones, geese, red and blue parabas, toucans and other varieties of animals such as swamp deer, caimans, sloths and eagles. We will navigate until we find the ecolodge. Once in the hostel and after arranging it in your room, we will serve coffee, milk, herbal teas, soft drinks. We will move to an appropriate place to observe the sunset (sunset) whose colors make a sight worth seeing. Upon returning from dusk, we will serve a buffet dinner. Later we will sail for an hour in a canoe in search of alligators and we will be able to observe how the eyes of these animals shine in the night (activity for which requires a flashlight), we will also appreciate other animals nocturnal

DAY 2

Very early at 5:30 a.m. We will observe the awakening of the pampas. then we will serve the breakfast buffet. We will walk through the pampas until we reach a marshy place where you can possibly see some anaconda (sicuri) or other varieties of snakes. Then we will also observe some eagles that go in search of vipers, which are the main food sun. At noon we will serve lunch and afterwards we will have a short break. Later we will sail to be able to explore the aquatic life of the Yacuma River. In this activity, we will see some pink dolphins, you will have the opportunity to swim with them. This activity is safe, because these animals are very friendly and quite territorial. We will return to the ecolodge for a small snack and then we will watch the sunset, from another viewpoint, which will give us the opportunity to obtain better photographs than the first day. Afterwards we will serve the buffet dinner

DAY 3

When we wake up we will serve the breakfast buffet. at 8:00 am. We will sail through the Yacuma river, in search of eagles, toucans, sloth bears and observe the diverse tropical vegetation (plants and flowers) as some varieties of orchids (like the so-called Queen Victoria), taropes, bibosis, etc. Later, we will do the sport fishing of the piranha, and other varieties of fish, which are returned to the river. For this activity, we prepare our hooks so that they do not hurt the trapped fish very much, always respecting (as much as possible) the nature. We will serve the buffet lunch. Later we return to Santa Rosa, sailing for an hour and a half in the Yacuma river and later in a wagon to the town of Rurrenabaque. Estimated time of arrival 5:00 p.m. (Depending on the state of the road).
